

Guatemala Livestock Education

Program Description:

Explore the beautiful Central American country of Guatemala, rich with culture, tradition, and picturesque landscapes. Trek through the mountains to work alongside Guatemalan livestock owners and Extension personnel as we enhance their agricultural processes and facilities in order to improve their livelihoods. Experience the beauty and challenges of implementing new practices with simple technologies and limited resources. Learn about the local food supply by visiting farms and meat markets to expand your understanding of the animal health and management needs. Be ready to form relationships and expand your view of global agricultural production and your world!
